Intellection

SHARED THEME DESCRIPTION

People who are especially talented in the Intellection theme are characterized by their intellectual activity. They are introspective and appreciate intellectual discussions.

YOUR PERSONALIZED STRENGTHS INSIGHTS

What makes you stand out?

Instinctively, you look forward to having time alone to read a good book or news publication. You can step into the lives of a novel's characters or the plight of a news story's victims. While others only comprehend the facts, you are drawn to the subtle and emotional meanings of words. You have an ability to experience the drama of fictional or real human beings. Many times, a tear slips down your cheek as you feel another's betrayal, sorrow, loss, or despair. Chances are good that you sometimes enjoy instructing others. Because you like to read, you probably have more information to share with your students than some educators do. The individuals you tutor benefit from the facts or insights you gather from the printed page or the computer screen. Because of your strengths, you enjoy reading, but you refrain from accepting information on its face value — that is, its seeming worth or truth. Typically you examine ideas, suggestions, or facts from a variety of angles. Only then do you judge what is worth filing away, taking notes on, or remembering for later reference. Driven by your talents, you notice that you choose to spend time with particularly intelligent adults. Besides enjoying their company and mature thinking, you welcome the opportunity to engage in sophisticated, knowledgeable, and thoughtful conversation. You amass numerous ideas, theories, or concepts from these encounters. Often the insights you gain have proved to be quite useful days, weeks, months, or even years later. It's very likely that you might delve into subject matter that intrigues you. Perhaps you read, write, listen to lectures, experiment, or research selected topics to broaden your understanding of them. Sometimes you think of questions no one else has ever asked. Sometimes you find your own answers.

Positivity

SHARED THEME DESCRIPTION

People who are especially talented in the Positivity theme have an enthusiasm that is contagious. They are upbeat and can get others excited about what they are going to do.

YOUR PERSONALIZED STRENGTHS INSIGHTS

What makes you stand out?

It's very likely that you may be able to enjoy the companionship of numerous individuals. Perhaps they appreciate your willingness to involve them in activities or compliment their knowledge, skills, or talents. Chances are good that you traditionally bring an upbeat perspective to instruction, training, or tutoring. You probably regard education as one of the essential elements of a well-lived life. Driven by your talents, you naturally gravitate to situations where you can be your true self. You feel life is wonderful when people listen as you share stories about your successes, failures, talents, limitations, hopes, or fears. By nature, you intentionally set aside time to reflect on your unique abilities. You ponder the things you do quite well. Looking at what is right about yourself and your life energizes you. Dwelling on your shortcomings strikes you as an utter waste of time. Because of your strengths, you feel much happier about life when your work permits you to leave the world in much better condition than you found it.

Context

SHARED THEME DESCRIPTION

People who are especially talented in the Context theme enjoy thinking about the past. They understand the present by researching its history.

YOUR PERSONALIZED STRENGTHS INSIGHTS

What makes you stand out?

Because of your strengths, you periodically set aside time to examine past events or the lives of key figures. You may construct timelines when you need a framework within which to sort through historic evidence. You might research topics intensely before you draw any final conclusions. It's very likely that you create a vision of the future by unraveling what happened in the past. You strive to understand the what, when, who, where, how, and why of events. You are determined to create a framework of facts so you can put things in perspective. Chances are good that you periodically investigate some of the events, policies, or people whose actions contributed to worldwide wars. You might delve into materials that reveal how these global conflicts were brought to an end. By nature, you are an enthusiastic student of the past. Why? The past offers insights about the coming months, years, or decades. When you can make sense of what has occurred, you are much more prepared to deal with upcoming changes or opportunities. Driven by your talents, you really like to read about past events and the key people involved. By accumulating lots of knowledge regarding days gone by, you regularly anticipate the opportunities and pitfalls you are apt to face in the coming months, years, or decades.

Competition

SHARED THEME DESCRIPTION

People who are especially talented in the Competition theme measure their progress against the performance of others. They strive to win first place and revel in contests.

YOUR PERSONALIZED STRENGTHS INSIGHTS

What makes you stand out?

It's very likely that you often pause to figure out what you do extremely well. This explains why you choose to test your abilities in some ways but not others. You probably have found your chances of being the best markedly increase when you practice using your natural abilities. Driven by your talents, you may work industriously on particular kinds of projects. Sometimes you devote unusually long hours or expend tremendous amounts of energy on your job or studies. When you know your scores, ratings, rankings, or performances are being compared to those of others, you quickly intensify your efforts to be the very best. Chances are good that you feel much more favorable about yourself and life in general when you are functioning at an optimal level. Being "number one" or named the best usually motivates you to do more and better work in the coming hours, days, weeks, or months. Instinctively, you feel much more enthusiastic about your life when you can compare your results to those of others. You are highly motivated by the image of yourself standing in the victory circle and being hailed as the best. By nature, you now and then aspire to head up a large enterprise. Perhaps you feel you can transform this hope into reality by working hard.

Input

YOUR PERSONALIZED STRENGTHS INSIGHTS

What makes you stand out?

It's very likely that you enjoy reading as long as you can savor each sentence and consider each idea. Your goal is to comprehend everything you read. It makes no sense to you to rush through books, magazine or newspaper articles, Internet sites, or other forms of written material just to say you finished them. Chances are good that you may rely on hard-to-understand words to give you an advantage over certain individuals in debates, presentations, or correspondence. Perhaps you are restless to advance. You might refuse to remain at the lowest level of pay or status. You sometimes use complicated or theoretical terms to establish yourself as a possible contender in the minds of individuals who have clout — that is, influence or pull — with officials who determine promotions, control pay, or assign tasks. Driven by your talents, you are determined to keep abreast of the news. You probably satisfy your hunger for current information by habitually reading newspapers, magazines, correspondence, memos, files, or Internet sites. Instinctively, you can escape the tension, pressure, or stress of everyday life by reading a good book, diving into a publication's articles, or pulling up information on the Internet. You are apt to take reading material with you on vacations, business trips, rest breaks at work, or tables for one at restaurants. You routinely dog-ear pages, underline key ideas, or scribble notes in the margins so your latest discoveries can be easily retrieved. By nature, you pay close attention to current events. Numerous people merely recount what they heard, saw, or read. Typically you dive deeper into the topic. You are likely to generate theories, concepts, or philosophies to explain the reasoning behind newsmakers' decisions. You routinely gather information about events, policy statements, people, or crises. Your fresh insights are likely to draw equally engaged thinkers into the conversation.
